Hi Anthony,

Chief Nicodemus is not available for an interview. Questions about how University Police Departments within the CSU will address federal immigration enforcement should be directed to the Chancellor's Office (publicaffairs@calstate.edu).

This FAQ, put out by the CSU is also helpful: https://www.calstate.edu/attend/student-services/resources-for-undocumented-students/Documents/faqs-about-federal-immigration-enforcement-actions-on-university-property.pdf

I'm a producer with North State Public Radio working on a story about local law enforcement's plans to respond to the Trump Administration's requests with immigration enforcement.

In his last term as part of a broader strategy to increase deportations, President Trump called local law enforcement "force multipliers" for U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement.

1. What role does Police Chief Nicodemus believe local law enforcement should play in immigration enforcement?

2. A leaked DOJ memo shows officials have ordered federal prosecutors to target state and local officials who do not cooperate with Trump's planned deportations. What is Police Chief Nicodemus' response to this?

3. Does the police department plan to comply with SB 54 or with federal direction when it comes to cooperation with Immigration and Customs Enforcement?

4. Is Police Chief Nicodemus available for a more in-depth interview about these conflicting directions from state and federal officials, and how it impacts him in fulfilling his role?

We are asking other police departments in the North State the same four questions. The deadline for a response is February 3rd.

Thank you very much for your time,
